

Greene County Daily World

www.gcdailyworld.com

'An the Raggedy Man, he knows most rhymes an' tells 'em, if I be good sometimes'

Tuesday, April 2, 2019

By Patti Danner, Staff Writer

Danny Russel of FamousHoosiers.com visited the Linton Public Library Monday in the persona of 'The Hoosier Poet,' James Whitcomb Riley, for whom Riley Children's Hospital is named. Here, Russel kids with an audience member. While explaining early Indiana settlers had to beware of being scalped by natives, Russel quipped, "Oh, I see they already got to you," as the good-natured audience member laughed.